

Gehrig R. Williamson, MD

Primary Care Associates of Appleton has a history of providing exceptional care to those they serve. I'm excited to be a part of this intelligent and compassionate team of providers and staff.

I enjoy the relationships that I get to establish as part of my career. I am humbled that patients feel comfortable entrusting me with private and important aspects of their life. I am motivated to care for my patients, and I understand the importance of partnering together to collectively help find ways to optimize health and wellness. I have been described as approachable, a good listener, understanding, prompt, and responsible in terms of getting answers for my patients.
