

Corey Macrander, MD

Growing up in the Appleton area, I have a love for our community and the people of the Fox Valley area. Having that local connection, I feel I can relate to my patients and understand what is important to them.

I consider myself a lifelong learner and appreciate learning new aspects of medicine that Internal Medicine provides. I try to provide my patients with information they need to make informed decisions so together, we can come up with a plan that works best for them. I hope patients can describe me as an empathetic provider who is thoughtful, adaptable, compassionate, and willing to go the extra mile to provide the best care possible.

Education

Medical Degree:

Wayne State University School of Medicine - Detroit, MI

Residency:

UW Health - Madison, WI

Professional Interests

Preventative health has always been an interest of mine, but I truly appreciate all aspects of medicine.

Personal

Outside of work, I cherish time spent with my family. We like to be outdoors, playing soccer, golf, tennis, skiing, and fishing. I am also a Wisconsin sports fanatic, and enjoy cheering on the Packers and Badgers.
